DEMOLITION MEANS PROGRESS? -- THE LECTURE

April 27, 2010 • 6:00pm-8:00pm

The Pabst Mansion is excited to offer a rare opportunity this Spring—an exceptional dinner at the historic Grain Exchange complimented with a new lecture from our historian, John Eastberg. Bartolotta's has created a delicious dining experience for you and John will share new details and historic photographs of Milwaukee's lost Victorian Past.

Stunning architectural gems were created to establish Milwaukee as a cultural and commercial center during the Victorian period. Pabst Mansion Senior Historian John Eastberg uses period photographs to examine the buildings that once made up Milwaukee's 19th century landscape. While many of these buildings have fallen to the wrecking ball, we also seek out the best of those that have survived from this golden age in architecture.
